

November 2022 Newsletter

Visit Our Website

"The US electric sector has started a journey to become cyber resilient. This means to architect their environment and cybersecurity solutions to keep critical operations running despite being under threat. They have invested in improving visibility and understanding, defense in depth techniques, and following a strict principle of least privilege."

- Robin Berthier, CEO & Co-Founder of Network Perception featured in Industrial Cyber

Read Full Article

November Conference Recap

ManuSec 2022

During the ManuSec conference, Robin Berthier presented the advantages of building IT and OT partnership through a risk-based compliance verification strategy.

Florida Public Power Summit 2022

The Florida Public Power Summit brought together cybersecurity professionals to discuss information-sharing opportunities, improve incident response capabilities, exchange best practices and learn new trends in cybersecurity.

API 2022

The Network Perception team attended the 17th annual API Oil & Gas conference to discuss best practices for achieving cyber resiliency in the face of an increasingly sophisticated landscape with OT professionals from across the country.

Don't Miss Our Last Conference of the Year:

Control Systems Conference 2022

Network Perception will join industry leaders in the critical infrastructure sectors to discuss how to play a more definitive role in the long-term success of an organization's maturity model.

Register Today

Check Out Our Latest Best Practices Guide:

Learn why the 2 sides of visibility are a must have for comprehensive network security and protection.

Download eBook

About Us | Contact

